Nearly $12,000 Paid for 52 Head of Stock

Some 600 buyers from several states paid nearly $12,000 for 52 head of registered herefords here yesterday in an annual auction sponsored by the Arkansas Hereford Breeders Association. This represented nearly $231 per head. Top price for a bull was paid the local Brannan-Spencer Ranch. The $655 purchase was made by Phil Hardy, Texarkana contractor. The top cow, sold by Howard Kidd of Murfreesboro, brought $375 from L. E. Scott of Little Rock. C. P. Jones of Patmos paid $520 for a bull sold by Worth Matteson of Foreman for the second best price of the sale.

All of the stock sold. Buyers gathered in the Third District Livestock Show Coliseum early despite rain showers and a sudden dip in temperature. Col. Walter Britton of Texas was auctioneer while Bob Shiver and John Brannan of Hope were in charge of arrangements.

Other stock sold from the following registered herds: Marion Crank, Foreman; Rosewood Ranch, Dickens; Hawkins Bros. and John Hawkins Jr., Foreman; Fred McJunkins, Saratoga; B. J. Barton, Nashville; M. L. Stueart, Tokio; L. T. Camp Jr., Daingerfield, Texas; Ford and McClure, Bob McClure, Lewis and Campbell and Glencrest of Nashville; Bowman Ranch and Wade Atkinson of Foreman; Beckerman and West of McNeil and L. B. Thomas of Curtis, Ark.

During the noon hour breeders were guests of the Hope Chamber of Commerce and the Association at a luncheon at Hotel Barlow.

The sale was termed highly satisfactory and breeders were well pleased.

Wants to See Why Friend Was Stripped

By HERBER FOER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy has asked the State Department why his friend, Security Chief Scott McLeod, was stripped of his hiring and firing powers in a departmental reuffle. McCarthy (RWis.) told newsmen yesterday he wrote a "not unfriendly" letter to the department in his capacity as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee. The group has jurisdiction over reorganization plans in the executive branch.

He said he asked for a "complete report on whatever reorganization took place, its purpose, and who the new personnel chief will be."

McCarthy said it would be a "conservative statement" to say that he was "disturbed" by the departmental shakeup which wiped away the controversial McLeod's powers over personnel.

McLeod said as of late yesterday he had not talked with McLeod, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, or anyone in the department about the McLeod case.

McLeod refused to see reporters all day yesterday.

Earlier, McCarthy said Dulles' action on McLeod "doesn't look good" because it will "make it definitely harder" for McLeod to do a good job.

Blytheville to Funds for Base

BLYTHEVILLE (UP) — Nearly $6,000,000 in contracts for construction at the new air force tactical air command base here will be let within the next 60 days.

Local businessmen were advised of the development yesterday by a telephone call from U. S. Sen. John L. McClellan. The senior Arkansas senator said he was informed by Air Secretary Harold Talbot that the Blytheville base would be completed and ready for use by the end of 1955.

McClellan said the base would cost $12,000,000 instead of the originally estimated $18,000,000. He said the remaining $6,000,000 in contracts would be let as work progressed.

McClellan said he learned that one wing of light bombardment aircraft will be stationed at the base, and that permanent personnel will number between 3,000 and 3,500.

Federal Civilian Payroll Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate House committee said today the federal civilian payroll dropped in January for the 18th consecutive month.

The Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures said government employees totaled 2,348,457 in January, a net reduction of 8,834 as compared with the preceding month.

House Group Set to Slash Excise Taxes

By CHARLES F. BARRE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee appeared primed to buck the Eisenhower administration today and approve a cut in more than a dozen major excise or sales taxes.

Republican and Democratic committee members predicted an almost unanimous vote for a bill introduced yesterday by Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) to slash all excises now above 10 percent down to that level.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey in a statement last night said the government could not afford such broad, sweeping reductions now.

While cutting some excises, the bill would cancel indefinitely reductions set under present law for Apil 1 on liquor, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles, beer and wine.

The two actions would almost balance out if the House and Senate go along. The new cuts would reduce revenues almost one billion dollars a year. Killing the scheduled reductions would retain present revenues of about $1,100,000,000.

The Eisenhower administration had requested that the scheduled reductions be canceled, and originally had opposed any loss in revenue from excises. After Reed introduced his bill, Humphrey said the Treasury was prepared to go along with cuts in a few selected excises "where industries were being badly hurt by especially high rates."

But he said the administration could not support across-the-board cuts of up to one billion dollars proposed by Reed. Republican leaders, however, said they did not expect an all-out fight by the administration.

British Vote Record Peace Budget

LONDON The House of Commons approved Britain's record peacetime defense budget last night 295-270. Prime Minister Churchill had asked its approval without a vote but the Labor opposition forced a ballot.

The budget, pointed toward a "new look" buildup of British air and atomic strength as a deterrent to war, provides for the spending of 1,639,000,000 pounds $4,592 720,000 in the fiscal year starting April 1. It tops the announced budget for the current year by 3,400,000 pounds.

Churchill asked in debate last night that the House accepted the budget without a vote to keep the defense question out of the trough of party bickerings. He said "any weakness or disunity in Britain when she is known to be working for peace, would weaken her strength out of all proportion to the money saved."

Indignation of Man Fined for Drunkenness Leads to the Equalization of Court Costs

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If it hadn't been for the indignation of a man held for drunkenness, Baxter County residents might still be paying higher costs in justice than those paid by residents of other counties.

He pleaded guilty so he could hardly protest the $5 fine levied against him.

But the costs — $22.50 worth of 4½ times as much as the fine itself — aroused his ire.

He took the case all the way to the Arkansas Supreme Court which said that the defendant could be taxed only such costs as apply generally throughout the state.

The court said the 1951 act which set special — and higher — fees for Baxter County was illegal because it was local legislation applying in this instance only to a

Stricken at Hearing, Col. Burdick Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Roy D. Burdick, 60-year-old retired Army engineer who collapsed yesterday while testifying before a Senate subcommittee, died last night.

Attendants at Walter Reed Medical Center here said Burdick's death was caused by a brain hemorrhage. They added that he had been suffering from high blood pressure, and suffered a stroke.

Burdick, who lived at Little Rock, Ark., was a stricken shortly after he began his testimony before a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee. He appeared in opposition to the proposed Millwood Dam on Little River in Arkansas.

He took the stand after a group representing the Red River Valley Association had urged that $250,000 be spent for planning the Millwood

British Seek Truce in Kenya Fight

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Britain launched an effort today to negotiate a truce with the terrorist Mau Mau organization which has brought death and terror to thousands in its efforts to drive the "white man" out of Africa.

British authorities were aided in their efforts by "General China," captured No. 2 leader of the terrorists whose death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment for his cooperation.

Atkinson added that while the loss will be small in comparison to total cotton income, some individual farmers will take heavy cuts in their earnings.

He suggested that farmers could offset their prospective losses, at least in part, by replacing cotton with new crops and increasing the yield per acre on cotton.

Atkinson spoke at a meeting of agricultural agency representatives here.

Chicago Snow Is Heaviest in 15 Years

By United Press

Chicago, the nation's second largest city, dug out today from its heaviest snowfall in 15 years.

Some roads were closed to permit cars, stalled and abandoned by their drivers, to be towed away.

The snow blanketed an area extending diagonally across Illinois from Missouri toward Lake Michigan. The Western Plains reported bitter cold, extending into the Southwest where it threatened budding crops.

Snow which began falling before noon Tuesday piled up three to 14 inches deep in the Chicago metropolitan area. It measured about a foot at Midway Airport.

Midway Airport in Chicago was closed to traffic for a time while the runways were cleared of snow and 25 to 30 planes were diverted to Mitchell Field at Milwaukee, 35 miles north. At one time, nearly 1,000 "diverted" passengers were in the terminal, awaiting bus or train transportation to downtown Chicago.

The 85-ton swept-wing, four-jet airplane was shown yesterday as it neared completion in the sprawling plant of the company which also builds the Air Force's B-47 and B-52 jet bomber.

It was known how gained in building the bombers that made it possible for Boeing to be so near completion of the prototype of what it hopes will be the world's commercial carrier of the future, said William Ross, president of the company.

The bitter cold wave of the season stirred up a messy dish of snow and blowing dust in Texas, dropping the mercury as low as zero in the Panhandle. Below-freezing lows forecast for the Rio Grande Valley threatened citrus fruits and truck garden crops.

A helicopter carrying air mail from Midway airport to the main post office crash-landed, and a naval reserve pilot ran out of gas fighting the storm and made an emergency landing in a farmer's field near Mazon, Ill.

Eisenhower Lashes Out at Unfair Investigation Tactics of McCarthy

Plot Meant to Include Ike, Dulles

(Copyright 1954 by United Press)
NEW YORK (UP) — The shooting of five congressmen in Washington on Monday was part of a plot to overthrow the United States government by the assassination of its leaders. Private advices to the United Press from San Juan, Puerto Rico, said today that among those marked for death in the plot were President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

He advised from Puerto Rico that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has alerted its agents to the possibility of further outbreaks of violence by fanatic Puerto Rican Nationalists. In addition to Mr. Eisenhower, Dulles and Hoover, there is said to be a plot to kill Gov. Munoz Marlin of Puerto Rico, who now is in the United States, and Antonio Fernos-Isern, Puerto Rican commissioner to the United States.

Dulles now is in Caracas, Venezuela, as head of the American delegation to the Inter-American conference. Unusual precautions have been taken to assure his safety, including a bullet-proof automobile for his transportation. The persons charged with the protection of Mr. Eisenhower took additional precautions shortly after the shooting in Congress earlier this week.

There was no indication that the projected assassination of Mr. Eisenhower, Dulles, Hoover and the Puerto Rican leader was scheduled to have taken place simultaneously.

Some 20,000 interdenominational services are scheduled in this country at churches in factories, colleges, hospitals and other places. The annual observance is sponsored in this country by the National Council of Churches.

His 500-word statement Eisenhower outlined a three-point code of conduct to be followed in combating internal communism:

"We must be increasingly vigilant in every phase of government activity to make certain that there is no subversive penetration."

"In opposing communism, we are educating ourselves if either by force or through carelessness we use methods that do not conform to the American sense of justice and fair play."

The conscience of America will clearly discern when we are practicing proper vigilance without being unfair. That conscience is reflected in the body of the United States Congress. We can be assured that its members will respond to Americans' convictions
and beliefs in this regard."

Eisenhower said there are vital foreign and domestic problems concerning the nation which "deserve
the undivided and incessant attention of a Congress, of the executive branch, of the public information media of our nation, of our schools and even of our churches."

He regarded it as unfortunate when we are diverted from these grave problems — of which one I will mention against any kind of internal subversion — through disregard of the standards of fair play recommended by the American people.

These incidents are all the more needless and unfortunate in view of the basic dedication of every loyal American to the preservation and advancement of America's safety, prosperity and well-being."

Eisenhower said he and every body in the executive departments recommend Congress' right to "investigate" into any phase of our executive operations."

He is conserving and there ought to be some spirit of cooperation between the branches of government. He said such cooperation "is possible only in an atmosphere of mutual respect."

The President said that when he was serving as a military officer he never saw any member of congress guilty of disrespect to the public servants who were appealing before him." He said he intends to preserve the tradition

Shafer Gives Account of Shooting

By JAMES F. DONOVAN
and VINCENT J. BURKER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep.
Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich.) gave a federal grand jury today an eyewitness account of Monday's gun attack on the House of Representatives for which the government is seeking quick indictment of four Puerto Rican terrorists.

Shafer gave the jury "very positive"
identification of all four of the assassins.

The government charged the three gunmen and their pistolwielding woman leader with assault with intent to kill on five counts — one count for each of the five representatives felled in the 30-second attack.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department considered slapping criminal charges on leaders of the tiny but fanatical Puerto Rican Nationalist party to which the terrorists belong. Informed sources said department experts believe the government may be able to prosecute party chieftains under the Smith Act — the same act under which U. S. Communist leaders were sent to prison. This forbids conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government.

The ultimate fate of the four immediately accused hinges on a courageous touch-and-go fight for life being waged at Casually hospital by Shafer's fellow Republican House member from Michigan
Rep. Alvin M. Bentley.

Bentley, a 35-year-old millionaire from Owosso, Mich., was removed from the hospital's "critical list,"
after a restful night. But physicians said he is still in danger. A high velocity pistol bullet pierced his lung and diaphragm and smashed his liver.

Under the indictment sought by U. S. District Attorney Leo A. Ro-

New Orleans Festival Comes to End

NW ORLEAN (W) — Littered streets and tired faces marked a solemn end to the carnival season.

The climax came with the daylight region of Rex, Lord of Misrule and comus who died held way
by torchlight last night.

Most of the city was costumed and masked for its gala holiday.
An Improvement strip tease popped up at points to enliven the crowds.

Masking ended at nightfall.

The balls of Comus and Rex closed the social activities. At the stroke of midnight the court of Rex visited the court of Comus in deference to Comus seniority. The monarchs drank a toast to the end of another carnival season and the beginning of the 40-day Lenten e-riod and the city's return to reality.

Police reported they handled 551
complaints, compared with about 200 for an ordinary day. There were 103 automobile accidents and 56 cases of drunkenness. John Albert, 33, was shot to death after he broke up a fight between two men.

The accident book at Charity
Hospital, overtaxed in treating victims, showed that people had fallen and been stabbed, were struck with bottles and other objects, shot and so forth.

Spat With the Army Poses Old Question

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. McCarthy's treatment of a general did more than get the Wisconsin Republican into a row with Robert T. Stevens, secretary of the Army. It helped revive an old question: Should Congress lay down mandatory rules for its committees — which now make their own as they see fit — guaranteeing witnesses who appear before them fair play and more rights than they have now?

Congress has batted that one around in one shape or another for more than 10 years while doing practically nothing about it. If the past is any criterion, it won't do much now.

Various committees, including McCarthy's, have rules for procedure and reasonable treatment of witness. Whether they're lived up to depends in each case on the committee members who made them.

Last year and early this year members of both houses suggested Congress as a whole tighten up on its committees.

Then, after the McCarthy-Stevens feud erupted a week ago Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) offered a detailed set of rules they call a "code of fair committee procedure." In many ways they'd give a witness the basic rights he gets in court but doesn't have before a committee.

Then the Republican family dispute between McCarthy and the Eisenhower administration got so much public attention it worried the Senate's Republican Policy Committee.

This group, which sets Republican Senate strategy, unanimously decided it was time to look into the possibility of changing the rules for investigating committees. President Eisenhower was reported anxious to see a tightening up.

Rep. Javits (R-NY) proposed a single committee of House and Senate members to do all Congress' Communist hunting.

Such a joint arrangement would mean abolishing the House Un-American Activities Committee, headed by Rep. Velde (R-III), the Senate's internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) and taking such responsibility from McCarthy's subcommittee.

The arguments on both sides might be boiled down this way:

1. A congressional investigating committee, sometimes in a hurry, can't be bound down by the procedures of a court. Besides, a witness before a committee is not on trial. Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for example, said over the weekend court rules for an investigating committee would hamstring it.

2. But a witness before an investigating committee is so much at the members' mercy that he can be just as thoroughly ruined as if tried and convicted in court, but without full court protection. Therefore, he needs such protection.

The changes proposed in the past week vary widely and overlap in some cases.

McCarthy, because other members of his committee did not show up, has been able to conduct one-man investigations. Eisenhower was said to want other members, particularly Republicans, present in the future. McCarthy has said it isn't his fault if other members don't show up.

The President reportedly wants a witness to have the right to counsel in fact as well as theory. In the disputed Army case, McCarthy ordered the Army's legal counsel out of the room.

Javits, Morse and Lehman urge that a witness, hit by adverse testimony, should have the right to cross-examine the accusing witness, a right he doesn't have now but would have in a court trial. Javits would let a witness, whose reputation is at stake, decide whether his hearing would be televised. Further, under his plan, no committee member could release information from the files without approval by a majority of the committee.

McCarthy has often questioned witnesses behind closed doors and then given newsmen such information as he chose. Morse and Lehman would prevent that by requiring a majority vote of the committee before such information could be released.

Now a witness can be forced to answer questions only, without a chance to put a full statement of his case in the record. Javits would see that he could do this as a right.

A defendant in a court trial has a right to counsel, and his lawyer can cross-examine witnesses, and can call his own. At a committee hearing a witness is entitled to a lawyer only. More and Lehman would give him other rights.

Answer: You realize now that you took exactly the wrong tack in trying to win friends. Perhaps you can never get back your old status in your community. A tarnished reputation, a bad name, a tainted character, are much easier to acquire than to lose. You must sever all connections with the questionable people who have been your associates, and, though it may mean many months of loneliness, start trying to begin winning friends. Your handicap is not honest, but the unwillingness to accept life on the terms given you, plus a low moral resistance, No girl was ever made an outcast because of her looks... In fact, I know many very plain young ladies who were popular leaders in their schools and communities, because they had gifts that more than compensated their lack of glamor. Friendliness, cheerfulness, co-operation, understanding, are far more important in a group than baby-blue eyes and dimples.
